

Danielle Aguas

VP OF CLIENT ENGAGEMENT | SPEAKER | MENTOR

Danielle Aguas is a passionate, results-oriented leader who believes that the heart and soul of business is the people. As an “old soul millennial,” she is passionate about finding creative approaches where people can thrive and build bridges across generations.

As VP of Client Engagement for Center for Executive Excellence, Danielle develops innovative ways to align the company’s mission and vision with the needs of its clients and meets with key prospective clients to build relationships, negotiate and close sales. She evaluates and ensures the quality of creative content for the company’s marketing and branding efforts.

Danielle derives satisfaction from bringing out the best in others and takes pride in contributing to their success. She is driven by the belief that a brand is only as authentic as the culture of the company it represents. She focuses her marketing efforts on clarifying and amplifying CEE’s unique story.

Danielle brings nearly 12 years of experience in the leadership development space having previously planned and managed conferences for the Servant Leadership Institute from 2011 to 2015 featuring thought leaders like Ken Blanchard, Stephen M.R. Covey, Colleen Barrett, John Maxwell, Cheryl Bachelder, and Garry Ridge.

Danielle holds a B.A. in Communications Studies with a Business Marketing Minor from Westmont College, Santa Barbara. She currently serves as a Co-Chair on the Emerging Leaders Board for the North San Diego Business Chamber and in her free time she enjoys challenges like racing in triathlons and mentoring emerging leaders.
